SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Worthy efforts are being made by the Parent Teachers Association for the establishment of a county library a project which should meet with wholehearted support from each and every individual and organization in the county. The cost as compared to potential benefits, is exceedingly low. The fact that already 47 counties in the state maintain public libraries seems sufficient evidence of their value. We sincerely hope, however that the apparent earnest desire for the library does not prove to be a "balloon" as it did with the proposed plan to secure for the youths of the community the well-appointed gymnasium operated by the grammar school. Both these projects are well worthwhile and certainly should be given every encouragement. But once started, we hate to see the idea die for lack of interest.

It is not for us to criticize the action of the district attorney in turning over to federal officers the two accused criminals apprehended here recently by local officers. Perhaps he used good reasoning. The evidence against the two certainly seemed ample to us to justify their trial by the state, but maybe there are circumstances of which we are unaware. We share a thought with Deputy Tom Dolley, whose life was threatened by one of the pair and of Charles Carrau, whose office was looted and other citizens of the town that just punishment is meted out by the federals even though they are held only for violating the Dyer Act.

This news hustling business sometimes is difficult, and if you would have your paper more newsy we suggest that you give us your personal items, lodge or club doings and other items of news which you think might improve the paper.

We hope you are a member of the Truckee Outing Club, but if you are not come to the meeting tonight and join. The club needs your support and Truckee needs the club.

Don't take a chance on the slippery roads this week end. Do your shopping in Truckee.

SEES REDUCTION SOON

Report To Be Submitted To Board On Increase In Facilities Here

E. C. Adams, engineer for the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, was in Truckee Monday to make an inspection of the recently augmented fire apparatus for the purpose of rendering a report to the board relative to a requested reduction of fire insurance rates.

Adams, according to Fire Chief N. F. Dolley, expressed himself as well pleased with the new setup and said that a reduction in rates could be expected.

While it is not within Adams' jurisdiction to set rates, he said he would make a favorable report and that another inspector would soon be here to look over the business establishments, public buildings, etc., for the purpose of fixing a new rate. It was indicated the rate here could be cut from 10 to 12 per cent as Truckee, through reorganization of the local department and addition of new equipment was entitled to go from the present ninth class to the seventh.

PATROL OFFICIAL IS SPEAKER BEFORE MEETING OF LIONS

Although between 1200 and 1500 cars are stolen in California every month, an average of nearly 500 per day, between 97 and 98 per cent of them are recovered.

This startling statement was made before a meeting of the Truckee Lions Club last night by Captain Earl Personous of Sacramento, a guest at the meeting, who spoke on the activities of the department in tracing stolen cars and apprehending car thieves.

Fire Chief N. F. Dolley, also a guest at the meeting, talked briefly on the work of the fire department in its drive to secure lower rates for fire insurance. He said that a reduction could be expected in the near future.

Car Theft Charges Faced By Two Groups Nabbed Near Here

Three men captured at the outskirts of Reno after a wild chase by Traffic Patrolman C. E. McKeen of the state highway patrol, were ordered held to answer in the federal court at Sacramento by U. S. Commissioner J. Q. Brown.

The defendants, Charles Williams Frank Martino and Harold Befus, are charged with violation of the Dyer Act, accused of stealing an automobile in Oakland and driving it across the state line. Bail was set at $2500 each.

Thomas Gordon and Michael J. Hines, of Susanville, will face trial in the United States court.

Gordon and Hines were arrested heer by Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley after the office of the Truckee-Tahoe Lumber Company had been looted and the life of Dolley was threatened by Gordon. The pair also dug a deep hole in the floor of the local jail in an escape attempt after their incarceration.

Four felony counts were placed against the two, but the district attorney turned them over to the federal officers for prosecution on the car theft charge.

They are said by officers to have confessed to the charges.

New Angle Is Seen In Local Suicide Quiz

Officers Claim Eames Shot Self After Planning Violent Act

Local officers last week retracted their theory that Clifford Eames, 39 representative of the California Packing Corporation, killed himeslf to escape suffering following an automobile accident near the state line and said that it was a clear case of premediated suicide.

A thorough examination of the victim's body by Dr. H. J. Bernard failed to reveal the slightest wound aside from the gunshot wound in the right temple.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley said he believed Eames deliberately drove his car off the road and then shot himself with the small calibre revolver.

W. W. Barris, who had been sent to Reno to replace Eames in this territory, said Eames had been transfered to Idaho, but had been called to the San Francisco office of his firm prior to his leaving. He was en route to the bay city when the tragedy occurred.

The investigation also revealed the dead man's wife and two children recently left Reno where they had been living.

POLICE SEEK VANDAL GUILTY OF CUTTING WOMEN'S CLOTHING

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.— (UP)— Police sought today to solve a mystery in which they not only had no clue to the identity of the person they are seeking, but also were unable to fathom the motive behind the crimes which have cost downtown store operators at least $1000.

Virtually the only clue they had was that the vandal who has slashed valuable clothing, apparently with a razor, was a woman.

Woman's wear at two chain stores was the first to be slashed. This was followed by additional depredations at the Bon Marche department store. The most recent vandalism was reported when salesgirls found three coats and four dresses at Hale Bros ruined by the razor slashes.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Democracy is still the American way of living.

As long as the Press can carry the bombast of a Johnson and the pleadings of a Broun, as long as a Roosevelt can laugh at the caricatured executive in "I'd Rather Be Right", as long as economic royalist and New Deal disciple can join this week in celebrating the birthday of the President—Democracy is still the American way of living.

When millions of Americans gather Saturday to honor President Roosevelt, they will be celebrating not so much the 56th birthday of a man, as the 162nd anniversary of a national way of thinking ,a way of thinking which makes it possible for friend and foe to join in saying "Happy Birthday."

The best-liked and best-hated man of his generation, President Roosevelt becomes on this day, not a political power, but a symbol of a valiant fight against physical disaster. As a successful victor in that fight ,it is right that he should lead the battle against infantile paralysis.

As long as personalities can be forgotten in the interests of a great cause, as long as political animosities can fade when honoring a politician as man—Democracy is still the American way of living.

COUNTRY EDITOR, 1938

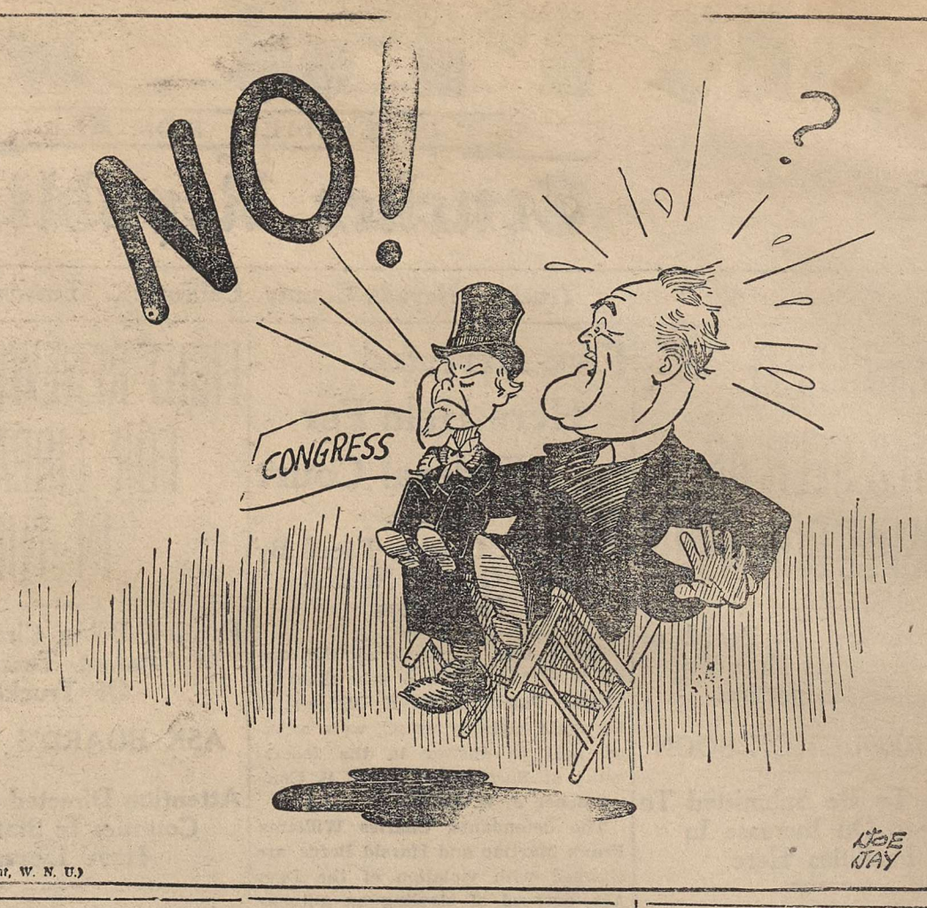
The fiftieth anniversary of the California Newspaper Publishers Association is being observed this week—an event that probably will cause many old-time newspapermen to refelct back on the glories of the past. In memory, he'll drift back, perhaps, even more than the 50 years, to the days when a hardy little band of country editors played their part in the winning of the West. Back to the days of "personal journalism", to the days of the tramp printer who drifted in, hung up his hat, hand-set his type in a "stick" from a California case, stayed a week, a month or a year, and then one pay day was gone again to hang his hat in another shop in a distant town.

Yes, times have changed. But the small town newspaper is still regarded as the backbone of the press of the nation, and the country editor still plays his part in buliding his community. No longer is he the dreamy-eyed idealist who gave his last adjective in behalf of wild political cause or principle; the improvident, perhaps, but likeable character who accept potatoes, wood and merchandise in exchange for subscriptions and advertising.

An idealist he may remain, but the country editor today is a realist as well, concerned not only with building his own business, but interested in the welfare and commercial structure of his whole community. He is paid in cash for the carefully conceived ad copy that develops business for the merchants who use it. And the main exemplification of "personal journalism" today is the personal effect the editor expends both in digging up the news and plugging for his hometown.

In the back shop today you will find modern machinery run by skilled craftsmen who own their own homes and raise families in the community. The tramp printe rhas gone on to hang his hat in that Valhalla where peripatetic printers finally come to rest. —California Feature Service.

Getting a Bit Unruly



Copyright, W. N. U.)

Politically Speaking

By Jack Welter
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.— (UP)— When the uproar of the 1938 gubernatorail campaign has died away Californians may be able to look back through the year and mark down January 20 as one of the most momentous dates of the year, from a political standpoint.

For January 20 was the date on which J. F. T. O'Connor, federal comptroller of the currency, was noti fied by President Roosevelt that the White House regretfully accepted his resignation from the post he has held since the 1933 banking holiday.

O'Connor's reason for resigning, as set forth in his official notification to the President, was that he desired to return to his "home state of California to take care of pressing matters there."

This expression was taken by a majority of observers as tacit declaration that "Jefty," as Mr. Roosevelt addressed his reply, will enter the August primary as a Democrat gubernatorial candidate.

With his supporters already claiming O'Connor to be the Roosevelt administration's fair-haired favorite in the California primary, the exchange of notes and remarks attending O'Connor's retirement from the comptroller's job will make great ammunition for a gubernatorial campaign.

The nation's banking structure "was never on a more solid basis than it is today," O'Connor informed the president. "Our banks have ample funds either on hand or temporarily held under federal reserve requirements to meet and and every legitimate demand of business."

Although the administration is expected to withhold an outright expression of preference in the California race, O'Connor Democrats obviously could make considerable political capital out of this paragraph of the President's letter :

"I must regretfully accede to your request, but, in view of the fact there remains important unfinished work in connection with the payment of dividends to depositors in closed national banks requiring at least your part time attention, I shall ask you to withhold your resignation until April 1."

And again:

"In my opinion ,this cource of action will enable you to take care of pressing matters in your home tate of California and yet gives you an opportunity to return here as ofter as necessity requires during the interim."

Thus O'Connor's name may be the next listed beside those of State Senator Culbert L. Olson, Congressman John F. Dockweiler and Herbert C. Legg of Los Angeles as declared Bourbon gubernatorial aspirants.

Used Cave for Glass Work

The first glass maker in Scotland was George Hay (1566-1625). He took advantage of a peculiarly formed cave at Wemyss on the Fife coast, and set up his furnace therein.

One report circulated hereabouts, meantime, indicates that Clifford C. Anglim, Democratic state central committee chairman, may wind up as successor to John V. Lewis, San Francisco's internal revenue collector, and not run for any office, Anglim currently being considered a potential aspirant for the lieutenant governorship.

The latest rumor is that Lewis had this same thought in mind, in a possible coalition with Dan Murphy of Tahoe . . . . Ramblings . . .

(By SWANEE)

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Brodehl and son Art returned on Tuesday from a trip to Seattle, Wash. Their trip consumed a period of two weeks, caused partly by a minor accident to their car when they struck a rcok slide on the highway. Mrs. Brodehl suffered a bad shaking up and bruises.

Miss Beccy Brodehl enjoyed a vacation of a week in Sacramento at the home of her sister, Mrs. Esther Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Brodehl and two children are in the south, planning to visit in Santa Barbara. Returning with them to his home in Santa Barbara was Donald Cowell who has been a guests at the Brodehls for some weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson were hosts at a dinner on Friday evening guests including Mrs. Frank Armstrong and Mr .and Mrs. Jack Allen and little daughter.

Considerable local interest is being focused on the coming dance in honor of the President's birthday and from which a percentage will go to the National Infantile Paralysis fund. Subscriptions ranging from $1 to $5 may be secured at Tahoe from Mrs. A. M. Anderson of the Tahoe Merc, Tahoe Inn, Mrs. Sam Goss, Charlie Swanson and Mrs. A. M. Henry. An especially jolly time is anticipated for the evening of January 29. During the past week Truckee has contributed in a generous spirit to the good cause, returning the good deed which Tahoe performed in other years.

Carl Brooks of Brockway has left Tahoe for Grass Valley where he plans to secure work in the mines.

Mrs. Jay Dodson of Tall Pines suffered from a minor auto accident on Friday last when her machine overturned on the slippery higway She was reported bruised and the car incurred slight damage.

Motorists are warned by the highway department when driving at the Lake to use the utmost caution as roads are often slick with ice and speed is most inadvisable.

On Sunday the fenders of Mr. J. E. Pomin's car were mashed when a passing motorist skidded into his machine near the entrance to the Tahoe Tavern. Joe Pomin was at the wheel. No one was injured and the damage was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kent and two daughters were guests at the Tahoe Inn from their home in Kentfield over the week end.

Floyd Bradbury of San Leandro also sojourned at the family home in Tahoe Park over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Slater and family of Tahoe Park are enjoying a holiday of indefinite duration in the bay area, to be gone some weeks.

Tahoe Ski Club members have been meeting at Tahoe Inn during the cold weather as heating facilities are limited in the old school house. Mr. Bechdolt kindly offered the Inn which was accepted with thanks.

A full quota of all available contestants from the local club will motor to Galena Creek next Sunday to attend the invitational meet to be held by the Reno club there. All the events will be featured, according to present plans. From Tahoe those to attend are David Renner, Sig Ulland, Carl Bechdolt, Walter Mandeville, James Easton, Joe and Robert Pomin and Jimmie Swanson. Joe Henry has been invited as a judge.

Sig Ulland, who placed second in the Salt Lake exhibition meet and jumped 140 feet for the longest jump and who placed seventh in the Chicago meet, has sent word that he would participate in the tournament at Minneapolis, held last Sunday before returning home to Tahoe. He broke a ski during his first trial at Chicago and was compelled to use the broken ski in competition, or he should have placed second or third, according to his accounts.

More than 50 persons attended the informal ski meet, the first to be held this season, at Ski Hill canyon Sunday. Slalom and jumping were in progress throughout the day. Snow conditions, although excellent, found some spots in the shade a little too icy following Saturday's rain.

Star entertainers included David Renner, A jumber and Walter Mandeville, B jumper, both making the 130-foot mark from the B hill. Jimmie Easton, grandson of Mrs. Gerda Kvistberg of Tahoe Park, is a new comer this year who is showing plenty of courage and more than a little skill in his leaps in C division. Among others who spent the day perfecting their skiing technique were Patsy and Mrs. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pomin and Joe Pomin, Leatrice and Blake Goss, Beccy Brodehl, June White, Gail Cleverdon and others. The comedians of the day were A. M. Anderson and Charlie Swanson who ended the Gelundersprung (or obstacle race) tied, both buried in a pile of snow from which they had to be extricated. Mr. Anderson brewed coffee for the crowd at noon and Mrs. Jess Sisk and Mrs. Sam Goss served sandwiches. Mrs. Anderson acted as tournament director and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned O'Laughlin of Pasadena, newlyweds, spent several days at Tahoe Inn as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Sr., aunt and uncle of the bride, who attended her wedding in the south last week.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER FOLLOWS TAHOE RAIN

TAHOE CITY, Jan. 27.—Beautiful sunny weather on Sunday followed Saturday night's snow flurries and showers. Highways throughout the entire lake region, now in good condition, were lined with out-of-town cars bearing many parties, young and old, intent upon perfecting the art of skiing. Picinc lunches were brought along to appease avid appetites, groups returning home at nightfall, tired, happy and painfully sunburned.

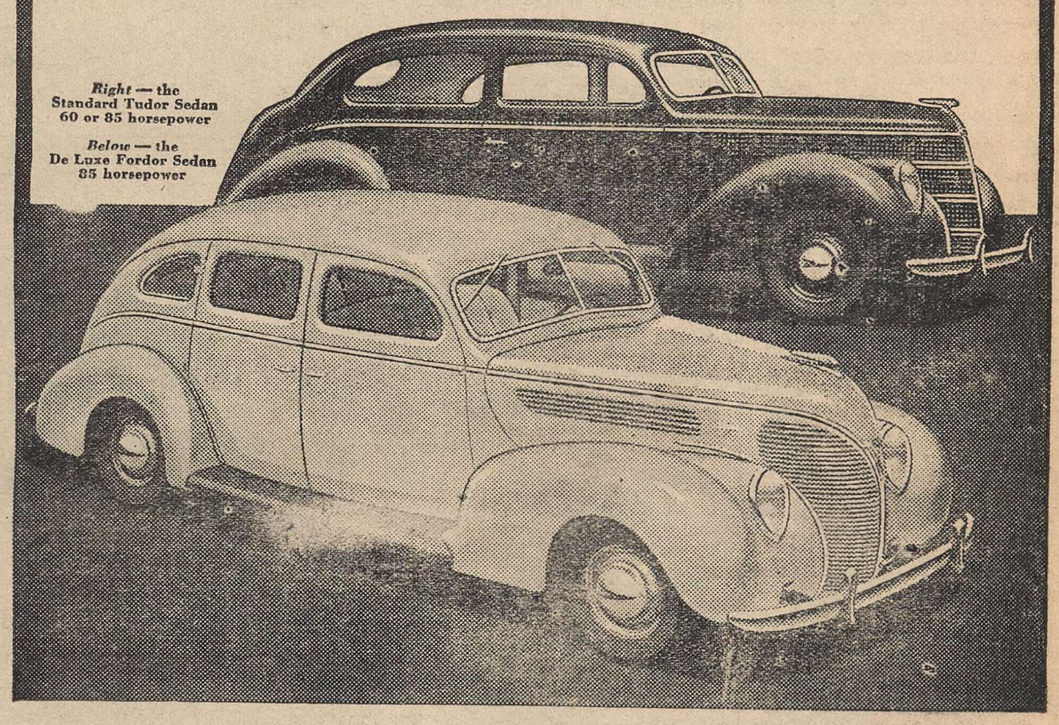
FORD OFFERS TWO NEW CARS and keeps their PRICES LOW



THERE are two new Ford cars for 1938—the De Luxe and the Standard—differing in appearance, appointments and price—but built on the same dependable Ford chassis.

Both bring you the basic advantages of a V-type 8-cylinder power-plant—smooth performance and compact design. The De Luxe Ford has the 85-horsepower engine. The Standard Ford provides a choice of 85 or 60 horsepower.

Both new cars are economical to operate. The Standard, with thrifty "60" engine, costs less to run than any other Ford car ever built.

And both new cars are priced low. Low price, like economy, is a Ford tradition. Ford founded the low-price field 30 years ago and keeps Ford prices low.

The De Luxe Ford costs slightly more than the Standard Ford, but provides more style with extra room in the closed sedans. Both cars, in proportion to price, represent unusual values. Both are built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence. There's a dealer near you.

This Week At The State Capitol

By JOHN ABBOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.— (UP)— Governor Merriam, busily engaged in drawing the battle lines for his re-election campaign, dealt out a wholesale list of appointments prior to departing for his southern California office.

The governor began a round of speaking engagements with an address before the California Publishers Association at Riverside.

Dozens of vacancies on various boards, commissions and district agricultural associations were filled, but a survey revealed many important "plums" still remain.

Included in this category are two memberships on the fish and game commission, four on the Industrial Welfare Commission and two on the Industrial Accident Commission.

Golden Gate International Exposition officials resumed their discussions with the state department of motor vehicles in an effort to secure automobile license advertising for the forthcoming World's Fair, to be held in 1939 on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay.

Steadfastly opposed to any such material appearing on the 1939 tags was motor vehicle director Ray Ingels, who rejected a similar suggestion for the 1938 plates now being distributed.

Ingels has two reasons for not using license plates as advertising media:

First, he says, the California Peace Officers Association objects. Slogans would require smaller numbers and the officers feel they have a difficult time as it is.

Ingels' further and perhaps more weighty reason is that "once the bars are let down" every fair and exposition of any kind would want the same thing.

Frank Y. McLaughlin and other San Francisco fair officials suggested that the 1939 plates could be bule and gold, carrying this message: "California World's Fair 1939," but Ingels remained adamant.

It was indicated, however, state executives might have no objections to a supplementary tag to be attached below the regular license plate.

But ti is no secret that fair officials would ask the state to finance this idea, too, and unless they revise their opinion there is a good chance the proposal may come to grief on this snag.

An assembly interim committee on revenue an dtaxation met at Los Anegles to consider t preliminary to the proposed special session of the legislature.

The state was represented by Webb Shadle, counsel for the finance department. Also attending the hearing were representatives of Los Angeles and Long Beach, railroads and legislators, all of whom have interest in the tangled tideland drilling issue.

It has been indicated in various quarters the special session and the nature of legislation to be submitted to the legislature will depend in a great measure upon the state supreme court's decision on the Olson bill, passed at the regular session with an urgency clause, which covers the Huntington Beach tideland operations.

State finance director Arlin E. Stockburger, disturbed at the growing tendency of county fairs to increase their premium payments with the idea of reimbursement from state pari mutuel funds, proposed enactment of legislation which would set a limit on the amount the state could allocate.

The director said some counties have premium lists carrying amounts as much as four and five times greater than are awarded for similar competition at the state fair. He said several instances were reported in which counties were alleged to have borrowed money form banks to provide for premiums and building programs, repayment being guaranteed from receipts alloted from the state's share of pari mutuel wagers.

Pari muteul funds are distributed on the basis of premiums awarded by local expositions.

Legislation, Stockburger warned, is necessary to prevent the increase in premiums from reaching the proportions of a "racket." He warned unless some action is taken, counties may find their expenditures on fairs greatly in excess on the sum alloted by the state.

Charles G. Johnson, California state treasurer since 1922, announced his candidacy for reelection. He is a Republican.

San Francisco, a possible gubernatorial starter ,in leaving his federal job.

Complications since considered, however, make this lineup seem improbable.

Still another report says that State Senator William F. Knowland of Alameda county may go after the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate in opposition to U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, Democratic incumbent. Knowland previously was said to be considering a congressional race.

The party or parties responsible for placing a bomb in Private Investigator Harry Raymond's automobile, bound to be distasteful to Governor Frank F. Merriam. This is particularly true in view of the forthcoming election.

Merriam derived no pleasure from Norman W. Church's oroginal assault on the California horse racing board, and still less from the subsequent developments which brought nationaliy prominent U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana to California to act as a Church spokesman and attorney in the case.

Church's demand for a thorough airing of the southern California racing situation were deftly sidetracked by the governor.

It is not inconceivable that recent developments might generate an initiative measure to outlaw the racing California has regained for such a comparatively few years. It happened in Texas.

Evolution of the Doll

The Skeleton and the Finished Product

CHILDREN today would scorn the rag dolls which delighted their parents. These primitive dolls were literally made of rags, their waistline being formed by merely tying a string around the middle of the bunch. Sometimes a bag was stuffed with rags, tied about the middle and a face crudely painted at the top.

Today, nothing is left to chance in doll making. To give the dolls a lifelike appearance, a complicated metal skeleton is first constructed. The arms, legs and waistline are articulated, so that they can be moved to any position and will stay put. This gives the doll a marvellous lifelike look, no matter what the pose, which so endears them to children.

The little body, arms and legs can be adjusted at a touch to hundreds of positions. Modern dolls are besides soft and yielding to the touch. The effect is obtained by beginning with a very small skeleton and skillfully building up the little bodies with many soft wrappings. The doll skeletons and the finished products above will be displayed at the greatest toy show in the world, the Leipzig Fair, opening March 6. Here the newest dolls make their bows to the world. Later these lovable little dolls will find their way into play rooms and, incidentally, the hearts of their owners in every land.

Good Lighting IS GOOD POLICY!

IT IS good policy to check up on your lighting at least once a month. Replace lamp bulbs that have grown dim. Fill up the empty sockets and replace the small sized bulbs in floor and table lamps before headaches and eyestrain develop.

It is good policy, too, to see that the light on your porch or basement stairs is really good light. Most dangerous falls on stairs are caused by a misstep due to shadows and poor light. In the kitchen many cuts and burns might be avoided if just a little better light was by the kitchen sink or stove.

Good floor and table lamps today are inexpensively priced. Prices of lamp bulbs in sight-saving sizes are lower than ever and the reduced electric rates make better lighting a truly low cost monthly item. Check over the lighting in your home today.
